In atenta depanatorilor!

Testerul de barete led este folosit de foarte multi depanatori si este considerat foarte util in depistarea baretelor defecte. Cu toate acestea trebuie sa stim ca acesta are si unele dezavantaje indiferent daca este construit dupa schema mea sau este cumparat.

- In primul rand tensiunea livrata in gol este de circa 300V, aceasta este foarte periculoasa la alimentarea inversa din greseala a unei barete si poate duce uneori la distrugerea unor leduri de pe bareta si la alimentarea corecta constatam ca unele leduri nu se mai aprind si au intrat in scurt.
- Curentul maxim livrat de tester este de circa 30mA, acesta este insuficient pentru depistarea ledurilor defecte ce cedeaza doar la curenti mari 150-200mA.
- La alimentarea exterioara a baretelor cu leduri defecte fara a demonta display-ul, testerul aprinde panoul chiar daca avem leduri in scurt sau leduri intrerupte datorita faptului ca tensiunea de 300V in gol face ca sa se produca o conturnare prin ledurile cu rezistenta marita, curentul necesar aprinderii ledurilor este de cativa mA. Odata panoul luminat nu ne putem da seama daca circuitul cu barete este defect sau nu decat daca demontam display-ul.
- O testare mai sigura se poate face cu o sursa de alimentare exterioara reglabila care sa permita injectarea unui curent de pana la 250mA ce poate afisa in fiecare moment tensiunea si curentul prin circuit.
- Trebuie avut grija sa nu atingem varfurile de masurare sau circuitul masurat existand pericolul de electrocutare mai ales la cel construit dupa schema mea care nu are separatie fata de retea si sa descarcam condensatorul prin atingerea varfurilor de masurare dupa ce in prealabil l-am deconectat de la retea.
- Testerul folosit corect este totusi util in verificarea baretelor indicand si tensiunea pe bareta si tensiunea de aprindere a unui led si dublat de o sursa de tensiune reglabila ramane un instrument de lucru util pentru depanatori.

In figura de mai jos va prezint o nota de la producatorii de barete.

Testing Notice

PREPARING BEFORE TEST

1. Please first check led backlight circuit "+" & "-" like picture ① (positive & negative)
(If do not know circuit "+" & "-" like picture ② , pls contact with seller)
2. If led backlight has right side and left side, please remember connect right and left and then test it !!!

DURING TESTING

Please check following led tester, when use it to test led backlight, please make sure the product circuit "+" & "-" and led tester "+" & "-" is same, please remember do not connect reversely otherwise it will cause led chip burn, resulting in Led backlight damage.
